VOL. VIII.

With this issue THE TIMES commences another volume under a little better circumstances than it did one year ago.

We feel satisfied with the past year and have only one cause to complain, and that is that quite a number of our delinquent subscribers did not settle up their accounts before the new century came in.

We hold no personal feelings against anyone, and our aim in the coming year will be to give our readers all the news of interest we can find, and make the paper as interesting as possible.

The Times has again been leased by the present management, and our desire will be to do all we can in the line of getting out a good newsy paper each week.

To those who supported us last year with their advertising and job work we feel very grateful, and trust they have received full value for their money.

Our subscription list has been increased considerably, and it will be our aim to get a great many more names to give this year, so that our advertisers will get the benefit of the same.

Thinking those who supported us in the past, we wish all a happy and prosperous year's business for 1901.

It Girdles The Earth. The name of Bartlett's Arctic Salsol, as the best in the world, extends round the earth.

We are strangers and pilgrims on the earth. This world is not our home. Here we have no permanent abiding place.

The Mothers Favorite. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures.
